Home destroyed

Two Haliburton firefighters are wreathed in smoke as they battled a blaze on Green Lake near West Guilford last Monday evening. The home of George and Elaine Schmid was destroyed by a fire believed to have started near a wood stove chimney. Freezing temperatures and the rambling nature of the old, converted farm house added to the difficulties faced by the firemen in containing the blaze. The structural loss was estimated at $180,000.

Urgent need for land-use plan

Stanhope township contemplates drafting its own

While the county struggles with its proposal for an official land-use plan, Stanhope is considering one of its own.

Depending on costs and budgetary constraints, Stanhope may push ahead and add its name to the short list of Highlands municipalities with this essential planning document.

Reeve Fred Gardner said the time has come for the township to at least consider the possibility of having its own official plan. The need for these documents has become urgent in recent years. Municipalities without official plans are already getting bogged down in red tape when property owners come forward with development plans.

Stanhope councillors needn't look far for evidence of the problems they may encounter until their planning document is finalized. In neighbouring Sherbourne Township, for example, a recent Ontario Municipal Board decision blocked a land-use proposal because that municipality lacks an official plan.

Only three of Haliburton County's 10 municipalities have official plans. The county has been working on one for the last several years, but very little progress has been made. Last month the county finally decided to shop around for prices from consultants rather than rely on its own planning department.

Gardner said the township's plan would not override the county plan. The county plan would set out the various provincial regulations while the township's plan would official plan.

"County restructuring is inevitable. I think our hand will be pressed," said Deputy Reeve Eleanor Harrison. "It's not going to work out like this much longer."

In fact, the county has toyed with the idea of restructuring for the past five years. A consultant hired last year to uncover inefficiencies said more than $1-million could be shaved from the county's annual budget if municipalities could agree to restructure to a one-tier system. Still, political differences at the council table have prevented serious progress on this initiative.

Councillor Murray Daniels said there would be no harm in getting an estimate from consultants, but if the township's borders are going to change, it would make sense to hold off on developing a township plan.

Council, however, decided to get price estimates from three consultants on the cost of developing a plan.

"Let's get a price anyway. Maybe we can set an example for the other townships," said Councillor Jim Hicks.

"County restructuring is inevitable. I think our hand will be pressed. It's not going to work out like this much longer."

determine what type of development can be created and where.

The township's zoning bylaws would then be updated. "Zoning bylaws show what you have done. An official plan looks ahead to what you'd like to see."

Gardner's proposal, however, was met with a lukewarm response. While councillors agreed there is a need for an official plan, they were worried about the costs and the fact that the county may be restructured, which could change any lower tier

All systems are snow

Here come the dogs, all set for this weekend's running of the Minden Sled Dog Derby.

For the first time in a few years there is little concern that the trails might be spoiled by warm weather. Organizer are pleased with the present condition of the trail and the weather forecast calls for sub-freezing weather for at least the early part of this week.

This year marks the 10th anniversary of the popular race and the excitement is greater than ever. Race Governor Val Lougheed said the mushers always look forward to the Minden race. The substantial purse consistently attracts the top mushers from North America and some from Europe. She says they are also overwhelmed by the hospitality and superb organization that comes with this event.

A final meeting of volunteers was held last week, and almost 100 area residents were represented. Each was assigned a specific job for the two days of the event.

From taking registrations to traffic control and communications, this massive event is smoothly run by volunteers.

Lougheed says it's the volunteers that really make the derby possible. And with 10 years of experience under their belts, the volunteers know their jobs well.

"It's incredible," says Lougheed. "These people return year after year to help out with the race. The spirit and dedication is just wonderful."

With sponsorship from Martin Pet Foods, the derby is the richest limited-class race in the world. The top 20 teams in the four- and eight-dog classes share in the $25,100 purse. Organizers anticipate there will be up to 80 teams vying for a share of the prizes.

Final preparations for the race begin Friday night when the municipal roads crew goes to work hauling snow and spreading it along Main Street, where the teams will start and finish their runs. Over at the Rockcliffe Tavern, the mushers will gather for the bib draw, when they will determine starting positions for the Saturday race.

Early Saturday morning, drivers and their trucks will be arriving and volunteers will move into place in anticipation of the 10 a.m. start.

Based on past experience, organizers are expecting thousands of spectators to be lining the chute along Main Street for both days of the event.

For more details about this year's event, see the program insert accompanying this newspaper.

Stanhope quarry turned down

Proposal meets strong opposition from residents

by Andy Holloway

A proposed quarry near Kushog Lake has been given the thumbs down by Stanhope council.

Buoyed by strong public displeasure, council will inform the Ministry of Natural Resources that it does not want the proposed quarry. The quarry would be located on Lot 6, Concession 2 which is between Kushog and Boshkung lakes. It would be operated by Central Ontario Stone.

"I know for myself, it is a totally inappropriate development for that area," said Reeve Fred Gardner.

The rest of council agreed. Deputy Reeve Eleanor Harrison said she could see no benefit for the township and it would be detrimental to the area and the people living on both lakes. Councillor Murray Daniels said it was inappropriate to place a quarry so close to the lakes and added the dust and noise it would create would disturb wildlife in the area.

The proposed quarry is on Crown land and the ministry has the final decision on the matter. Clerk Gerald Bain, however, said he had been told that if the township rejected the idea then the ministry would follow suit.

About a dozen people were in attendance at last Wednesday's council meeting to show their concerns that the quarry would destroy the natural environment around the lakes. Carole Yawney said any development should be compatible with the natural resources around it. A quarry would not meet this criterion, she said.

Margo Collingham, speaking on behalf of the Kushog and Boshkung Lakes property owners' associations, presented council with a number of reasons why the quarry would be bad for the area. Chief among them were the loss of habitat for fish, fowl and animals, and the danger from increased traffic on the Buckslide Road.

Her concerns were contained in a form letter which was sent to council and to the ministry. The township also received two letters from Anson, Hindon and Minden residents and 10 letters from various organizations like the Kushog Lake Property Owners' Association. All the letters opposed the quarry. No letters in support of the quarry were received.

Name the carnival mascot contest closes this Friday

The response to the name the winter carnival mascot has been excellent so far, but if you wish to enter a name you have until this Friday at noon to drop your name off at The Times.

A winner will be chosen Friday afternoon by The Times staff and the winner will receive a lifetime pass to the carnival.

So far we have received more than 20 entries, all of which are excellent and any of them would be suitable for the little snowman that will be worn by all carnival participants.

The little snowman, along with a ribbon, must be bought to enter any of the events at this year's carnival. This will also get you a discount into some of the other events, like the dance on Saturday night.

The carnival runs from January 28 to 30 with most events at the Community Centre.

Bill Kulas donates part of commission to health care.

Minden real estate representative Bill Kulas has announced he will contribute a portion of the commission from each sale to the Minden Hospital building fund.

"The hospital is an integral part of this community," Kulas said. "It serves the needs of the growing number of young families we have in the Minden area and is a reassuring presence for our seniors as well." He noted that Minden is fortunate to have a large amount of senior housing, with a new 40 unit complex just announced several weeks ago. He also pointed out there is a large number of seasonal residents who rely on the health care services provided in Minden. "All these people look to the hospital as an important part of the health care services in our community. I agree with them and want to see it continued here."

This is not the first time Bill has donated a portion of his commissions to area worthy causes. When the Minden and Stanhope Fire Departments launched a fund-raising drive to purchase "Jaws of Life", he introduced a similar program to support those efforts.

Bill's interest in the hospital and health care over the past several years included a three year term as a representative on the St. Joseph's Hospital Board of Directors, chairman of the committee examining health care services in the community and Minden chairman of the fund-raising drive for the expansion of the Haliburton County Chronic Care addition.

Bill invites anyone interested in buying, selling or investing to give him a call. He can help you with your real estate needs, and for every successful transaction, a portion of his commission will be donated to the hospital building fund. (Some conditions do apply. Bill will be happy to provide you with all the details.)

Bill is a member of the successful sales team at Dale Austin Real Estate, "Your key to the Highlands". He can be reached at their Main Street office, just off Highway 35, or by calling (705) 286-4441 at the office or (705) 286-1372 at home.

Bill reminds prospective sellers that this is an ideal time to put their property on the market. He will be attending the two major property shows in the city in February and March. Both shows provide excellent marketing exposure, so give Bill a call today!

BILL KULAS is a member of the Haliburton District Real Estate Board and twice winner of the board's MLS award. He is also the winner of the President's Sales Achievement Award.

A crew from The Sports Network (TSN) visited Minden last Tuesday to survey possible camera vantage points for the filming of the Sled Dog Derby which runs this weekend. Local organizer Stuart Brandon points out some of the better locations to TSN staff, Christine Alevizakis and Michael Strachan, left, while Jean Mann of Martin Pet Foods and Val Loughheed right look on. This will be the first year the derby has been filmed for TSN. Thousands of spectators are expected for the two-day event.

Phillips to face murder charge

Leonard Roy Phillips has been committed to trial on the charge of first degree murder for the death of Minden OPP Constable Eric Nystedt.

Judge Reese Morgan heard four days of testimony at the preliminary hearing in Lindsay Provincial Court last week. None of the evidence of the preliminary hearing can be released, due to a publication ban.

Phillips was charged after a July 3 altercation at a Furnace Falls cottage led to the stabbing death of Nystedt.

Phillips has been remanded into custody at the Lindsay Provincial Jail. The trial is expected to be held later this year or early next year.

Help needed to renovate Dysart arena

by Andy Holloway

Winter blahs got you down? How about lending a hand to Dysart council's attempt to fix up its Community Centre?

Council is renovating the upstairs of the centre, but it needs volunteer skilled tradesmen to do the job. The township will spend between $10,000 and $15,000 on materials, but it hopes residents will provide the necessary manpower to complete the facelift, said councillor Gerry Walker.

"There are quite a few people not working right now and they might want to donate their time to the project," said Walker.

The upstairs auditorium will receive a new ceiling, lighting, windows, insulation, drywall, and a coat of paint. The washrooms will be cleaned and the capacity will be doubled. As well, council hopes to clean up the kitchen and possibly replace some of the appliances.

Haliburtonians want new police station

by Andy Holloway

Haliburton Village's police station is in a bad state and the local police support association wants to build a new office for the OPP.

Cleve Roberts, president of the Haliburton Police Support Association, said the existing sub-station is inadequate for OPP officers and needs to be replaced.

The present office is on Highway 118, a block north of the main street. Roberts said the association would like to keep the present site because it is easily accessible to the public and is highly visible.

The sub-station is used by community police officers assigned to Halibur-ton Village. But Roberts said the office is too small for more than one officer to use it as a time.

The proposed building would have a computer room, an interview room and a meeting room. In addition, the new office would have a washroom, complete with shower, and other perks such as a fridge and microwave.

Minden, Dorset and Kinmount have all had new OPP sub-stations built in the past few years. Roberts said those offices are much nicer than Haliburton's, and this reflects poorly on the village.

Roberts asked Dysart council's permission to proceed with the proposal for a new office. Council agreed to maintain the existing maintenance contract and will prepare the site for the new building.

Councillor Robert Heinze asked whether the new office would increase police presence in the area, but Roberts said there could be no guarantee this would be the case.

"There won't necessarily be more officers in it, but the officers will use it more often," said Roberts.

Materials for the new office would cost $30,000, said Roberts, but the association hopes there will be enough volunteers to provide the labour. The Haliburton County Homebuilders' Association has expressed an interest in taking over the project as a public service, said Roberts.

Ridgewood hosts drug info session

By Jerry Grozelle

Ridgewood Public School in Coboconk will be hosting a Drug Information Night on Wednesday, January 19.

Constable Dave Fletcher of the Coboconk OPP, Ruth Stoddart, a Public Health Nurse from the Kawartha Region Health Unit and Brenda Johnston, a student services worker with the Victoria County Board of Education will each make a presentation. Topics will include recognizing the signs of drug abuse and what parents and educators can do.

There will be a display of different drug paraphernalia as well as specimens of the different forms of drugs.

Following the presentations will be a panel discussion where parents may ask questions to gain as much information as possible. Kits will also be available, outlining how to talk to children about alcohol and drugs.

The Drug Information Night is a public service program which is open to anyone who is interested. No pre-registration is necessary.

The Stanhope Firefighters Association received a $1,000 boost last week when proceeds from two fundraising efforts were delivered. The recent Winefest brought in $800 and a dance topped this up with another $200. Couple loses everything as fire destroys home

By Jerry Grozelle

A charred shell is all that remains of the home of Jim Young and Shannon Lumsden. The couple lost everything but the clothes they were wearing when fire raged through their home on highway 35 near the Laxton-Bexley Boundary last week.

Neighbours spotted flames coming through the roof of the house at about 6 p.m. on January 7 and alerted the Bexley Fire Department. Along with the pumper and tanker from Bexley, tankers from Norland and Kirkfield were called in for assistance and the Baddow Station of the Somerville Fire Department was on standby while the fire was being fought.

An estimated 25 volunteer firefighters braved the frigid weather, both at the scene and at the Gull River in Coboconk, refilling the tankers and shuttling them to the fire site.

"We put about 15,000 gallons of water on the fire," said Bexley Fire Chief Frank Spry.

Fire fighters were on the scene for almost five hours, returning to the station just before 11 p.m. It was the first fire of 1994 that the Bexley Fire Department has had to deal with.

Nobody was at home when the blaze started and the family dog was tied outside.

"If we'd been at work, the dog would have been inside," said Jim Young, who works for the Minden-Haliburton Ambulance Service. Lumsden works at a nursing home in Beaverton.

The couple was out for dinner at the time of the fire. They were contacted by the Ambulance Dispatch and notified that firefighters had been called to their home by a neighbour. An ambulance crew from Fenelon Falls stood by at the scene and OPP officers were on hand to control traffic.

When firefighters first arrived, the fire was already through the roof at the south east corner of the wood frame house.

Spry admits that his estimate of $80,000 damage might be "a little on the conservative side."

The blaze is believed to have started in the chimney.

Young and Lumsden are staying at Jim's father's near Fenelon Falls for the time being.

"Until we get things straightened out," Jim said.

The house was insured but Young isn't sure that it will cover the entire loss.

The Victoria County Disaster Trust Fund helped out with immediate needs.

"Since most of our family lives around here we didn't need the vouchers for clothes and food," Jim said. "I fit into my brother's clothes and she (Shannon) fits in her sister's clothes, so we're alright there."

Although everything was lost, Young said he appreciates the efforts of the fire department.

"It was such a cold night. I feel sorry for them having to deal with the cold," he said. "They did a good job as far as I'm concerned. Everything was destroyed but at least no one was hurt and they kept it from spreading to the neighbours. We do appreciate everything they did."

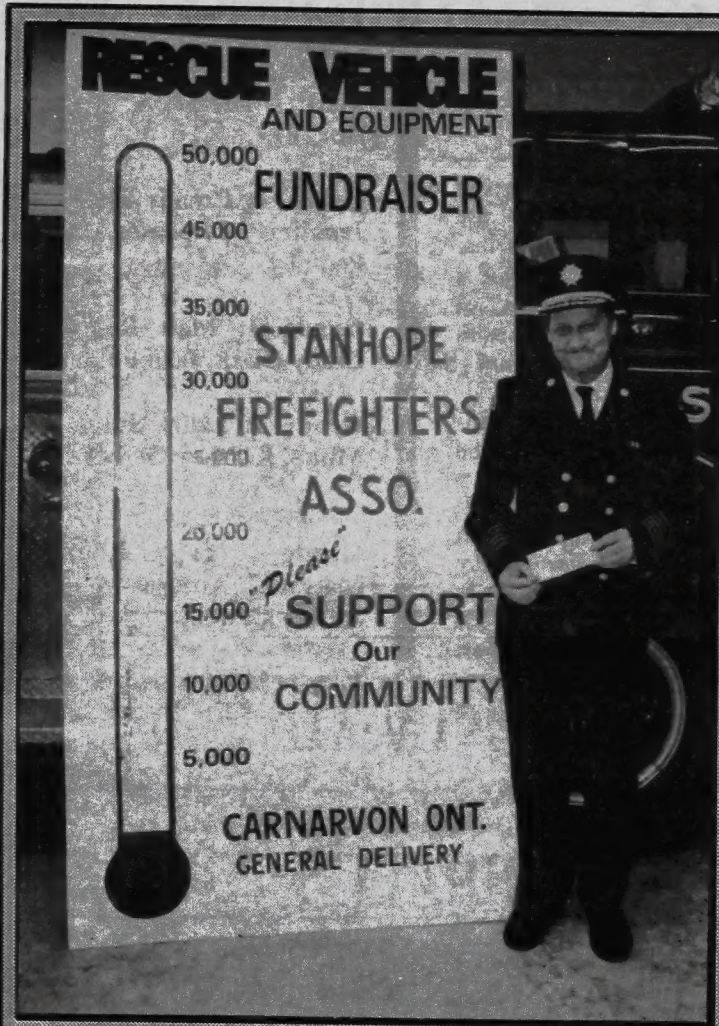

The couple has owned the house for two and a half years.

"It was our first house," he said.

The couple is currently in the process of filling out insurance claims.

"We lost all our Christmas presents and everything," Jim said. "It's hard to remember everything we had. And it's hard to know what to do. We've never been through anything like this before."

They hope to rebuild in the same place.

Chief Bob Nangle kicks off rescue vehicle campaign

It may not look like it, but Stanhope Fire Chief Bob Nangle is holding one-fiftieth of a fully equipped rescue vehicle in his hands. Actually, what he is holding is his contribution, $100.00 toward the latest fund raising effort undertaken by the Stanhope Firefighters Association. His cheque, kicked off the campaign last week to raise $50,000 to purchase the vehicle and equip it with rescue equipment. In making his contribution, the chief challenged others in the community, including members of council and other Stanhope citizens to match his donation. "It wouldn't take long to reach the target if 49 other came forward with a similar donation," he commented. Of course, donations of smaller amounts are welcome too. It will all go into the fund which will be tracked by the rising "thermometer". Donations can be sent to: Stanhope Firefighters Association, General Delivery, Carnarvon, or given to an individual who you know is a member of the Stanhope Fire Department.

Shelly Caught the Drift:

Shelly Hirstwood will be nice and warm this weekend, beneath her new Sled Dog Derby sweatshirt. The grade 7 student from Tom Dawson's class at Archie Stouffer Elementary School captured the spirit and flavour of the derby in her poster. She also captured top honours in the contest. Race Governor Val Lougheed presented her with her prize last week. Lougheed thanked all the students for their contributions, which will be on display in storefronts throughout the week.

Shelly Hirstwood is tops in poster contest

by Russ Duhaime

Tom Dawson's students seem to have a flair for designing posters.

Lindsey Sala designed last year's winning poster for the Minden Sled Dog Derby, while she was in Dawson's grade 7 class.

This year, it's another student from Dawson's class who takes top honours against hundreds of entries in this contest.

Shelly Hirstwood captured the magic of a community gone to the dogs with her lively and colourful depiction of Main Street during the derby.

In return for her efforts, Shelly was presented with a derby sweatshirt by Race Governor Val Lougheed.

While making the presentation last week, Lougheed praised all the students for their excellent entries. She said the posters have become a special treat for the dozens of mushers and thousands of visitors who come to Minden for the race.

As in past years, all of the posters will be displayed in store windows throughout the village for the week leading up to the race. The top three entries from each grade will be hung at former Gramma's Fish and Chips and at Beaver Valley Sausage stores on Main Street.

Designing and displaying the posters has become a treasured part of sled dog derby. It helps build enthusiasm within the community and adds a splash of festive colour to the storefronts.

The following are the winners of the Sled Dog Derby Poster Contest from the various grades at Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

Grade 8: Cameron Leonard, Megan Sisson, Lindsey Sala.

Grade 7: Shelly Hirstwood, Adam Hopps, Katrina Matysek.

Grade 6: Jennifer Minto, Kaija Siirala, Kristin Woods.

Grade 5: Elizabeth Brown, Mark Hamilton, Chris Boxall.

Grade 4: Brandy Harrison, Jennifer Carpenter, Chad Pentney.

Back-to-back events start the year with a bang

The coldest blast of winter is upon us, the economy is slow, and the busy summer months are well off in the distance. Still, it's hard not to be optimistic at this time of the year, thanks in part to the organizers of the two exciting events coming our way this month.

In five short days, one of the year's premier events will bring congestion to the snow-packed streets of Minden. It's the talk of the town — everyone is nervously watching the weather reports and hoping the cold spell will last long enough to shield the eight kilometres of trails from the sun's warm embrace.

There's plenty of snow today, but we all know how fickle the weather can be. Fingers will remain crossed until the first team breaks out of the gate Saturday morning.

In its brief 10-year history, the sled dog derby has rapidly become the most celebrated event in a long list of spectacular Highlands events. This is partly due to the fact that it's the first of the year and it lands smack-dab in the middle of "the off season".

This year, though, it is not the only winter event to earn mention in restaurants and coffee shops across the county. There's another exciting event to follow closely on the heels of the derby; the Minden Winter Carnival.

The carnival is heading into its 33rd year with more fanfare than it has earned in quite some time. This is largely due to the fact that a fresh, new organizational team has stepped in, bringing new ideas and a focus on family entertainment. The organizers have done an exceptional job of building on the Minden Kinsmen Club's fine accomplishments of the past. In doing so, they're bringing us another action-packed weekend of winter fun.

These back-to-back events are pumping tremendous enthusiasm into the community. What a great way to start the year!

Reminder:

For obvious reasons, specators at this weekend's sled dog derby are asked not to bring their pets out to the races.

Funding offer just a fairy tale

Editor,

Anyone who believes that the Rae government will grant us more than $6-million for hospital expansions also believes in Santa and the Tooth Fairy. After Peterson and his boys backstabbed John Eakins, Dennis Drainville's answer to any question about the hospital was "It's a given."

I was on County Council when Barbara Dawson and her volunteers collected our portion of what was supposed to take care of our hospital needs. We all felt great. People who could afford very little gave a lot. Ask Barb what she thinks of the situation now. There is no way an impoverished area like Haliburton can raise $4-million, and Rae's boys know that the whole promise is a fake.

Editor's Note: I'm afraid you're right, but hope you're wrong. One thing's certain, though; the scope of this project will be very narrow unless we find some way of raising the local share. Nothing ventured, nothing gained.

Name that snowman!

If you have a good idea for a name for the Minden Winter Carnival's snowman mascot, we'd like to hear it.

The Times is accepting ideas until this Friday, when a final decision will be made. The person who enters the selected name will win free lifetime admission to the carnival.

Old-time radio fan misses the magic

I'm a lucky guy because I work in the media. Don't let anybody kid you — it's a wonderful way to turn a buck.

Sure, I'll never be rich, but on the other hand, there's no dress code. I get to shoot off my mouth. And I meet a helluva lot of interesting folks.

I also get to explore the fascinating differences among the "media". I write a newspaper column, I host a weekly radio show and every seven days I do a comedy spot on television.

And just as in all families, each brother and sister is as different as different can be.

Writing the column is very satisfying. I get to put words together on whatever bee is currently rattling around in my bonnet as best I can and splay them out on this page every week.

Simpson Sears would pay big bucks for this space. I get it for free.

Television? That's another story. It is at once the most powerful and least satisfying of all the media I know. People watch you on television but they don't necessarily listen to what you have to say. I remember the first time I went on the tube. The producers told me I had exactly 90 seconds to make whatever point it was I was trying to make. I slaved over my words like a poet seducing a lover. I wrote. I got made up. I read my words off the AutoCue. The next day I asked my friends what they thought.

The all replied "Where'd you get that ugly sports jacket?"

That's the thing about television. It is enormously, overpoweringly visual. You could go on TV and recite the first four pages of the Hamilton telephone book and nobody would notice — as long as you looked like George Hamilton or Loni Anderson.

And radio? Ah, radio. I beg the editor's indulgence — what I am about to type is not what a newspaper editor wants to read . . . but radio is the most satisfying medium to write for.

Because in radio you get to use people's heads. There is no need to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars constructing a film set of the Nile Delta or downtown Winnipeg — all you to do in radio is say "Yellowknife . . . January . . . 1945 . . ." and the listeners brains fill in the details.

Radio is magic. Radio is make believe.

Radio is, of course, not what it once was.

People like to think that radio, like everything else, has gotten better, subtler, more sophisticated as time passes.

But actually, radio has gotten worse.

The fact is, back in the old days you could pull in marvellous things on your radio set. As Torontonians Ron Haggart, another old timer, wrote in the Globe and Mail recently, "As a child in Vancouver . . . I could easily listen to KSL, Salt Lake City . . . even WBZ, a continent away in Boston was possible . . . and of course the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's famous clear-channel station at Watrous, Saskatchewan."

Ah, yes. The good old days. For old-time, dyed-in-the-vacuum-tube radio fans, I heartily recommend a book by Garrison Keillor called WLT. It is a paean to the salad days of radio, and it contains this passage:

"Oh, the days when radio was new . . . It was so beautiful. Back then, the radio signal was received all the way to the Alleghenies and west to the Rockies . . . Radio spanned the continent, and radios were built to pull in signals from far away. The Zenith had a tuning knob as big as a grapefruit. You'd spin that and bring in Nashville and Cincinnati and Detroit and Little Rock and Salt Lake City and Pittsburgh. These little dinky pisspot radios you buy today won't get a signal from 30 miles away and why should they? The shows sound the same everywhere you go . . . Radio used to be a dream and now it's a jukebox . . . But of course if you climb on your high horse and talk about radio when it amounted to something, people will mark you down as an old fart, the sort who grumbles about the decline of railroad travel and circuses . . ."

Amen. And if anybody disagrees, just send your letters to me, care of this newspaper.

And address them to Old Fart, if you would.

Teen dance would enhance winter carnival enthusiasm

Editor,

It is really great this year that a few kind people rescued the Minden Winter Carnival. Keeping the spirit going is generous of the volunteers.

The schedule for this year's carnival looks very exciting and should keep people busy all weekend long.

As a teen of the community, I thought it might help to offer a suggestion for next year. My suggestion is to have a dance for the teenagers. I know there was one at Archie Stouffer Elementary School last year which seemed to have been fairly successful. Not seeing one this year is kind of sad. I understand that maybe with the changing of organizers some ideas will be lost, so I just thought I would help out and suggest bringing this one back.

Businesses beyond the BIA want to be involved

Area merchants explore potential for new association

Although lacking in formal structure, a group of Minden area business people is not short of ideas on how to improve service to customers and boost business in general.

A group of 30 area merchants met Monday morning under the unofficial name of the Greater Minden Business Association, to discuss whether such an organization is in fact needed in the community and what some of its objectives might be. The consensus which emerged was that such a group would be a valuable addition to the business community. A host of ideas also emerged from the "brain-storming" session on the problems with which the group should be dealing.

The meeting was co-ordinated by the Minden Business Improvement Area (BIA) an organization representing downtown businesses. Bryan Brown, Haliburton County Community Futures program co-ordinator and Minden area merchant Gary Bloor jointly chaired the meeting. Most of those in attendance came from outside the Minden BIA area.

Brown told the gathering this group must work in concert with other business organizations in the county, such as the BIAs and the Chamber of Commerce, if it is to succeed in its objectives. "You'll get more bang for your buck if you work together," Brown said.

Those in attendance were asked to identify areas where they felt there was need for improvement and co-ordination in the Minden area business community. A great deal of frustration was expressed about the fact that merchants from outside the boundaries of the BIA could not participate in BIA decisions and activities. They expressed a feeling of alienation resulting from this situation. The question was raised, but not answered, as to how or even whether the BIA and a new broader business organization could co-exist.

Other points raised included the need for more uniform business hours, especially extended hours. It was pointed out that if shoppers are going to be encouraged to shop late on Friday nights, for example, more stores must be open to provide an incentive for people to come to town.

Another suggestion was that the association quiz local shoppers to find out what the business community is doing right and what it is doing wrong. "We can't make changes or improvements if we don't know what people want," was the implication.

It was pointed out that offering what shoppers want is basic to good business. The survey would help identify those needs. As one merchant noted, "If they can't find it here, there is likely a store within an hour's drive of here where they can go and get it."

In the same vein, one merchant suggested that it would be of value for the business community to be informed on how it can meet the needs of tourists staying at lodges and resorts. "I think we know how to meet the needs of residents and cottagers, but what can we do to encourage the tourists to shop in our community?" the merchant asked.

It was noted that the business community consists of two types of individuals. One includes the established merchants, while the other is represented by the new owners. Generally the latter is more keen on innovative promotion and new ideas while the former is content with the status quo. Brown said the ideal situation is one in which an organization taps into the energy and enthusiasm of the new-comers while learning from the experience and wisdom of those who have been here for a long time.

The meeting could have continued for a much longer time, but many of the participants had to return to their businesses. The date and location of the next meeting will be announced in the near future.

The materials will be tendered locally as will any labour that is not volunteered. Volunteer workers can be from any business in the area. In addition to a job well done, the workers will be fed by volunteers.

Walker, Deputy Reeve Curry Bishop and the building department's Rod Sisson decided on the improvements after examining the building late last year. None of the improvements will affect the structure of the building or plans to make the centre wheelchair accessible. Council decided that Sisson will oversee the project.

Council wants the job finished by mid-February. Anyone interested in lending a hand should call Rod Sisson at 457-1740.

Benefit hockey

As part of the Minden Winter Carnival, a benefit game between the Minden OPP and Men's Hockey All-Stars will be played on Saturday at 6:30 p.m. with the proceeds going to Minden Minor Hockey.

Bantam A Monarchs topple the Kings

The Minden OMHA Bantams went to Woodville on December 30 and were handed a rare defeat losing 2-1.

No goals were scored in the first period, but the Monarchs scored early in the second for a 1-0 lead.

Dennis Woods scored a nice goal assisted by Dave Raback and Sheamus Donnery. Woodville, however, scored twice after that.

On January 6, Haliburton came to Minden to face off against their cross-county rivals and the two teams battled to a draw. Once again the goals were kept to a minimum in this game as both teams could only manage one goal each.

Jeff Wray scored the only Monarchs' goal with an assist going to Donald Todd.

The next day Minden travelled to Cannington and pounded the Kings 12-1 as Dennis Woods scored four times. The Monarchs had not played the Kings this season, but they racked up the goals fast and furious.

In the first period the Monarchs scored twice. The first was by Jeff Wray assisted by Woods and Marty Dettman while the second was scored by Tom Bagshaw on assists from Dave Raback and Donald Todd.

Minden scored two more times in the second period. Woods scored assisted by Wray and Dettman, and then Darren Mills scored with assists going to Sheamus Donnery and Daniel Howell.

In the third period Minden scored an incredible eight times. Woods scored three times for a natural hat trick, Daniel Howell scored twice while singles went to Donnery, Raback and Bagshaw.

Assists were recorded by Wray with three, Howell with two, Rob Camelon, Dettman, Todd, Curtis Fielding and Raback.

Novice A's good efforts starting to show results

The Novice A Minden Monarchs wrapped up the old year with three tough losses, but rebounded to beat Cannington in the New Year to start the year out right.

On December 18 Mariposa visited Minden and skated away with a 5-0 win. The next day in Beaverton the Monarchs put up a good fight, but were edged 3-2.

Beaverton jumped ahead 2-0 early in the game, but before the end of the first period the Monarchs cut that lead in half. David Petch, a Novice B player playing for the A's in this game, scored with assists going to Nicholas Mitchell and Justin Walker.

In the second Beaverton scored their third goal to reopen a two goal lead, but Mitchell scored to cut the lead down again. Jamie Colliss and Evan Kernohan picked up assists.

On December 23 the Monarchs travelled to face Bobcaygeon and lost 3-1 despite a spirited effort. Goalie Mark Snell and his teammates showed the Cougars it can be tough to win. In previous games the Cougars beat the Monarchs easily so this was a big improvement. The only goal for the Monarchs was scored by Ben Carpenter after a pass by Jordan Campbell.

The first game of the new year saw Woodville beat the

Haliburton Redmen vs. Fenelon Falls

Jonathon Bishop of the Haliburton Redmen takes care of his man during last Wednesday's big 3-1 win over the Fenelon Falls Falcons.

Redmen bottle up Falcons

by Andy Holloway

The Haliburton Redmen punched in two workmanlike efforts last week and it paid off big with wins over top-rated Fenelon Falls and Lindsay Collegiate.

Last Wednesday at home, the Redmen knocked off defending champions Fenelon Falls for the first time this season with a strong 3-1 win. The next day in Lindsay, the Redmen edged the Spartans 3-2.

In Wednesday's game the Redmen jumped out to a 1-0 lead midway through the opening period. A shot from the point by Chris Eskelin was blocked in front by Bill Bradley who then wheeled around and fired one past a surprised Falcons' goalie Steve Thomas.

The Falcons, however, tied it up shortly after on a fluke goal during a scramble around Peter Brohman, who was in goal for the home side. They didn't score another as the Redmen defence and strong forechecking kept the Fal-

Top three teams cruise to wins

Home Hardware, Hartwick and KDD continue their winning ways

The top three teams took on the bottom three teams and as a result there were plenty of goals in Minden Men's Hockey last Monday.

In the night's opening match-up, Doug Allison and Trini Elias each had a pair of goals to lead Home Hardware to a 7-1 win over Sid Stamp.

The league-leading Hardy boys staked themselves to a 3-1 lead in the first period and then scored four unanswered goals in the second to finish the rout. Allison and Elias each scored one goal in the first sandwiched around a goal by Boomer Stamp.

Fourth placed Sid Stamp's lone goal was scored by Gord Wood after his team fell behind 2-0.

In the second, Allison and Elias scored as did Tom Miscio and Barry Shaw. Allison and Elias also picked up one assist giving them both three point nights.

Hartwick 7 The Times 4

Cellar dwellers The Times lost again, but put in a valiant attempt against second place Hartwick. By all reports The Times goalie Kevin Smith, who pulled double duty as he also played for Home Hardware in the opening game, kept his team in the game despite the seven shots that beat him.

Scott Hamilton scored four goals to allow Hartwick to keep pace with Home Hardware in the standings. Other goals scorers for Hartwick were Chad Connelly, John Ballantyne and Scott Nesbitt.

Hartwick jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the first period before Lawrence Louheed scored to get The Times within two goals at the end of the first. Hartwick increased that lead to 4-1 early in the second, but The Times scored two straight to make a game of it. Joel Cox and Paul Walker were The Times' goal scorers.

But it wasn't enough as Hartwick scored three of the last four goals to win the game. Only Ted Pelcher could beat Hartwick goalie Andrew Burke in the game's final minutes.

The loss keeps The Times mired in last place with a 1-9-1 record.

KDD 7 Westside 4

The good news for The Times was they did not lose any ground to their closest rivals as Westside lost for the second straight week.

Ivan Ingram scored two goals in each of the two periods to lead KDD to the win. John Fedeski added a pair for KDD and Jason Stamp potted one goal.

Westside received goals from four different players: Dave Rodgers, Greg Metcalfe, Paul Mayo and Dave Pettes. Rodgers also recorded two assists for a three point game.

For KDD, Jeff Campbell and Jeff Howe each had three assists while Scott Danilko added a pair.

Snowmobilers should know speed limits on roadways

Hey snowmobilers! Did you know that the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act sets a speed limit for operators of snowmobiles on public trails and roadways?

The speed limit is usually half of the posted speed limit. Drivers in the villages can only travel at 20 kilometres an hour where the speed limit is 50 km/h. On other roads the limit is 50 km/h.

Violating the law results in both fines and demerit points which will probably boost your insurance rates.

And always remember: Ride safe, ride sober.

Novice A's beat Kings for first win of the year

Monarchs 4-1. Colliss was the lone goal scorer for Minden with Kernohan and Mitchell assisting.

The Monarchs broke into the win column with a 5-1 victory over the Cannington Kings on January 8.

The Kings, showing much improvement since their 9-3 loss to the Monarchs in December, scored the first goal within seconds of the game starting. They then held the Monarchs off the scoreboard until the second period, but the Monarchs did finally pull away.

Andy Kinsman tied the score three minutes into the second with an assist from Campbell and Carpenter. Later, a pass from Walker was tipped in by Kinsman to give the Monarchs the lead.

In the third, Mitchell scored and then Campbell scored, with assists from Kinsman and Carpenter, to increase the Minden lead. Carpenter banged home goal number five with assists by Kinsman and Campbell.

On January 11, the Cougars paid a return visit to Minden and beat the Monarchs 5-0. Despite the score the Monarchs played a spirited game and gave an outstanding effort.

Four of the Cougars' goals were scored on rebounds. Snell is looking good between the pipes and is gaining experience.

Correction: In the last Novice A report (December 20) it was Jamie Colliss who scored two natural hat tricks in a 9-3 win over the Cannington Kings, not Evan Kernohan. Alex Lydiatt from the Novice B's played a great game in net replacing Mark Snell who was away.

Open Wide: Mark Sisson provided a tempting target for students in The Great Marshmallow Catapult Contest at Archie Stouffer Elementary School last Thursday. Mark was one of the Family Studies students who came to cheer on his classmates in the grade 7 Design and Technology course.

Misfire: Natasha Gartshore's Heartstopper missed a beat, gently lofting the marshmallow a few feet along the runway. The short-distance catapult earned its creator one of the specialty prizes. Students used levers, springs, elastics and other assorted conveyances in this problem-solving project.

Trapper: Katrina Matysek's converted rat trap contained awesome power, jetting her fluffy missile accurately down the runway. Andrew Graham, Ryan Dawson and Aidan McKnight were amazed.

Designing students:

Flying treats test kids' contraptions

Teamwork: Nicholas Kulas had plenty of helping hands when he loaded up his powerful catapult in the final round of action. Helpers include Tristan Coysh, Jennifer Wales, Terry Sisson and Katrina Matysek.

20 years service

Twenty years of service to county government were recognized recently when Lois Warburton was presented with a plaque marking her achievement. Lois, who joined the county staff in 1974, has served as secretary to the land division committee since being hired. Wynn Newbury (Lahay) was the county clerk when she was appointed to the post. Joining in the presentation are recently retired county clerk, Gary McKnight, left, and Haliburton County Warden Jim McMahon.

Sledders to join dogs on Derby weekend

by Andy Holloway

The following brief items were discussed at Dysart Council last Monday.

Rendezvous '94

Council will be giving $200 to help defray the cost of a lunch being planned for snowmobilers as part of the Rendezvous '94 trek from Orillia to Fredericton. The snowmobilers will be travelling through Haliburton on January 22, the first day of their week-long, 1500 kilometre journey. The trip coincides with the first day of the Minden Sled Dog Derby.

The snowmobilers hope to attract attention to a proposed trans-Canada trail. Councillor Brian Watts, who is also the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association president, said the HCSA has been a leader in the need for a trans-Canada trail and helped out on Rendezvous '91. Watts invited snowmobilers to ride along with the 35 snowmobilers while they are in the county.

Briefly

Dysart Council Notes

Signs of the times

Many of the advertising signs that currently adorn the boards at the Dysart Arena will be removed on January 25 unless the represented businesses pay up. The Recreation Committee had recommended that the signs be removed by January 15, but councillors said that may not give enough notice to the businesses that their accounts are in arrears. The signs, nine in all, will be removed unless the fees are paid.

Fire agreements

If it's a new year, then it's time for a whole new round of fire protection agreements. Council entered into contracts with Glamorgan, Snowdon and Monmouth townships.

Monmouth will provide fire protection to Dysart for a total of $7,500 plus a base price of $300 per hour and another $100 for a first response, or medical emergency call. In 1993, Dysart paid out $12,400 to Monmouth to cover the cost of fire protection calls.

Dysart, however, recoups some of that cost by servicing Snowdon and Glamorgan areas. Glamorgan pays $2,750 with a $300 for the first hour of each call and an additional $150 for each hour thereafter. Snowdon pays $6,500 with the same hourly rates.

Yule thank you

The Haliburton County Association for Community Living received a $50 thank you for the parking tags its members created over the Christmas period. Haliburton Village offered free parking in its downtown area during the holidays to encourage shopping. The Association made little tags alerting drivers to the free parking. Even though many of the tags were ripped off by vandals, the association continued to make more. Their work was so impressive council may use them for future projects as a way of reducing costs.

Minden Council Notes

Tax bills to contain sewage information

by Andy Holloway

These items were discussed at Minden council last Thursday.

Sewage info

Municipal ratepayers will be receiving an information pamphlet on septic systems along with their tax bills this year. Council approved a request from the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit to include the pamphlets in the mailings. The unit will create the pamphlets and fold them, but did not wish to pay for the insertion costs. The pamphlets contain information on the care and maintenance of private septic systems, information which Minden Reeve Bern Berry said he found very important.

All ratepayers will receive the pamphlet including those on the municipal sewage system because it would take staff too much time to sort them out.

Paper chase

The municipality does not have a suitable storage space for recycling fine paper, the county will be told. County planner Mark Stagg had asked council if the township had space for a depot to store fine paper until it could be marketed. Stagg said there is a market for fine paper which would make paper recycling a break-even proposition.

Reeve Berry said he questioned Stagg's figures calling them "out of whack." He said the price per ton the county would receive and the amount of fine paper waste generated were not accurate.

As well, he pointed out that when the municipality first started recycling bottles and newspaper, they were told they would break even, an event which has not happened. "I think it's pie in the sky if we think we're going to make money with this, but that's my own opinion," said Berry.

Councillor Jeanne Anthon said she would like to see the municipality recycle fine paper, but only if the prices were set out in a contract to prove that it would not cost tax payers more money.

In voting down the county proposal for a storage depot in Minden, councillor Gerry Rome said they were not shutting the door on the idea, but pointing out that the municipality does not have a suitable space.

McCrea resigns

Council accepted with regret the resignation of building inspector Elaine McCrea. Berry said McCrea wants to further her education. McCrea has worked for the township for seven years, and has filled in as the chief building inspector when those positions were vacant. McCrea has been filling the position since Tom Hubercheck resigned last year. Berry noted that McCrea has always done a good job and that he was sorry to see her leave.

"I wish her luck in her new direction," said Berry.

One-time donation

Praising their work on the social contract, council has made a one-time donation of $100 to the Association of Municipalities of Ontario. AMO kept townships informed throughout the social contract process and fought to lower the financial hardship the contract brought to the lower levels of government.

Berry said he sees the social contract returning for this coming year despite comments made by Premier Bob Rae that he would entertain any reasonable alternative to save government money.

SLED DOG DERBY

January 22 & 23, 1994 Main Street, Minden

NOTE: Please leave your pet dogs at home.

Special Announcements for Sled Dog Derby Volunteers and Supporters

WHAT A MUG

An interesting addition to our line of souvenirs this year is a sturdy travel coffee mug imprinted with the 10th anniversary logo, as seen above. The mug is available for $5.95 and makes an ideal souvenir and a great gift for someone who couldn't make it to the derby. We are fortunate in that area restaurants (see list on page 17) have agreed to fill your souvenir mug with coffee free of charge, when you place a food order, this Friday, Saturday and Sunday only. Look for the distinctive and practical travel coffee mug, complete with its informative owner's manual, on sale now at Northland Sales, Mr. D's Donuts and the Brown Owl Restaurant. On Saturday and Sunday the mugs, along with other derby souvenirs, will be available from our souvenir outlet in the Floyd Hall Insurance office near the start chute. As a non-profit organization, all proceeds from the sale of souvenirs are used to support sled dog racing in Minden.

PRINT RAFFLE

Thanks to the generosity of Paul at Apparitions Fine Art, a Jon Van Zyle matching pair of limited edition prints is being offered as a raffle prize this year in conjunction with the derby. Tickets, just $1 each, are available at Minden area stores. All proceeds go to support the Sled Dog Derby. These beautiful prints, are on display at Apparitions Fine Art on Minden's Main Street.

Check battery regularly

Tips to help you start the car on cold mornings

The past few weeks have been bitterly cold and hundreds of people in the Highlands have had problems starting their cars in the morning.

While providing much needed business to local garages, the CAA says that up to 90 per cent of these cold morning "can't starts" could be easily avoided by following some simple precautions.

The easiest thing to do is to install an engine block heater. The cost will be about $100, but it will pay for itself in money and time saved.

If you don't want to spend the money you should read your owner's manual on how to start a cold engine. Many people do not know the proper procedure and as a result they end up wearing down the battery and starter and/or flooding the engine. Should you flood the engine you could be facing a repair bill of $70 for an oil change, new spark plugs and possibly a battery charge.

The battery is the key to starting on a cold morning. On a cold day, 80 per cent of a battery's starting power is lost. If your battery is weak to start with there isn't much power left so it's a good idea to check it out. Before you start the car make sure all accessories (radio, heater) are turned off.

Another area where problems occur is in the gas line. Use gas line antifreeze twice a month and don't let the gas tank get less than half full. This reduces the chance of condensation and freezing in the fuel system.

Operating a vehicle in the winter does require some knowledge, proper precautions and some expense, but it is worth it when you're on the road and your neighbors are still stuck in neutral in the driveway.

Service Clubs

Minden Ladies Auxiliary will celebrate 5th anniversary

The Ladies Auxiliary to Legion Branch 636 wishes everyone a happy and prosperous New Year.

With the starting of a new year we find our Auxiliary Membership to be 62 strong with all our members participating in all aspects.

The coming year will be another busy one for our Ladies as we have our calendar full with Bake Sales, Plant Sales, Monte Carlo, Penny Sale, Country Kitchen Sale and many lunch hour "Special Dinners."

As of February 15, the Auxiliary will be five-years-old. Thanks to all of our Comrades, we have come a long way with our membership and our miscellaneous fund raising. Our Charter Members will be honoured on February 19 with a Fifth Anniversary Charter Dinner; tickets may be purchased from Comrade Laurey Anne Roodenburg.

Our General Meeting on January 12 was well-attended, even though there are so many who are under the weather. There are still a few Comrades who have ordered name badges and sport shirts, but have not picked them up. Please contact President Sheila for these items. Our meeting night draw winner was Comrade Hazel Austen.

Congratulations to Pat Adamson of Minden on winning the knitted dolls and pine cradle.

If you are interested in playing darts, Kinmount will be hosting a tournament on February 19 at their branch. Please contact Comrade Bev Johnson for details.

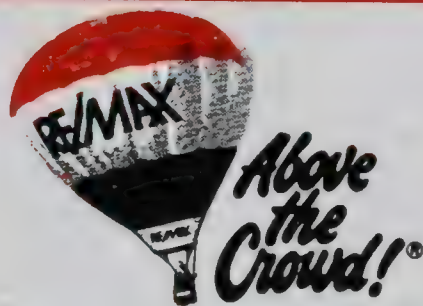

The Ladies Auxiliary wishes to thank the branch members for all the help they have given us over the past five years. Working together has enabled our Legion to prosper and we are looking forward to another five years of comradeship.

Poets tackle the winter blahs

January 1 was a very quiet day at Hyland Crest. The next day Estella Burch was here for reading. She is reading a very interesting book and we are enjoying it. Thank you Estella.

The evening Chapel service was led by Reverend John Burgess with Louise Leonard playing the organ. There was a good number of people at the service which is encouraging. Thanks John and Louise.

Monday the Poets Corner got together in the craft room and composed a poem about the "Winter Blahs". I think we wrote from experience.

Tuesday morning Chapel service was taken by Reverend Brian Parker combined with a memorial service in the memory of John Macklin who passed away on January 1. He will be missed by both the staff and the residents. It was a beautiful service and we sincerely thank Rev. Parker. In the afternoon we did crafts and in the evening Pearl Cowen (in the absence of Corinne Arseneault) aided us in playing cards.

Grandfathers 3 entertain seniors

Wednesday we had a quiz in the afternoon and the Grandfathers 3 entertained us in the evening. Bill Payne, Don White and Eldon Deacon helped us spend an enjoyable evening. Next month all three of the Grandfathers will be away and they will be missed. Thank you Bill, Don and Eldon.

The Thursday Tea Party was catered by the Kinette Ladies of Minden. They served a delicious tea. The ladies were: Marg Prentice, Kathy Thomas, Julie Jones, Dorothy Evans and Shirley Howe. Lucile Clarke played several selections on the piano to close a happy afternoon. Thanks to the Tea Party Ladies and Lucile. In the evening Kathy Woods called bingo for us and we thank her.

It is with sympathy we announce the passing of Marjory MacIntosh on January 6. Happy Birthday to Lilian Harrison on January 7 and Alice Todd, January 9.

Appointing power of attorney

Many seniors appoint a Power of Attorney without knowing exactly what it is, why they use it or what safeguards may be necessary.

Giving a person Power of Attorney authorizes that person to act on your behalf as legal agent or "attorney".

The appointment of such a legal agent is often a good idea, especially if you plan to travel and need affairs handled in your absence, or if you feel you can not manage your affairs due to infirmity or old age. The appointment may be made long before it may be required and left in the care of a lawyer or other trustworthy person.

A booklet explaining Power of Attorney is available free of charge from your nearest Information Centre in Haliburton or Minden.

Kinmount Legion's work appreciated

Joe Kelly (second from left), president of Kinmount Branch 441, was presented with a plaque in appreciation of the Legion's donation of a new television and VCR (worth $1,100) to the Galway Fire Department. The new equipment will enable the fire department members to learn new firefighting and life saving techniques. Kelly was presented with the plaque by (from left) firefighter Mike Grozelle, captain Dave Everingham and captain Wayne Parker.

Big wins for Redmen

cons away from the Redmen end much of the game.

If it were not for two hit goal posts, good play by Falcons' goalie Thomas and a quick whistle by the referee, the Redmen could have opened up the game early in the second period. As it was the pressure mounted by the Redmen resulted in a goal when Mark Stamp put a good shot behind Thomas. Andy Billings and Chris Greenfield picked up the assists.

Billings then wrapped up the scoring late in the third period to give the Redmen an insurance goal. Jeff Black and Bradley assisted on the play.

The next day in Lindsay the Redmen won their third straight, beating the Spartans 3-2. Last week the Spartans had dominated the Redmen in Haliburton, but the Redmen took control of this game.

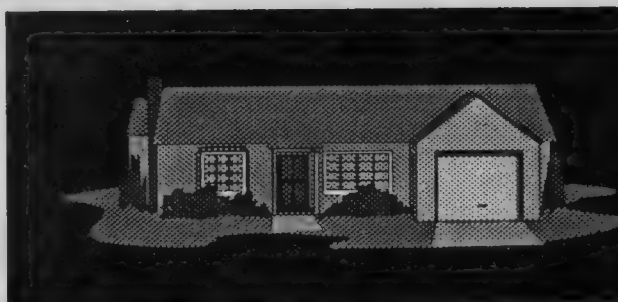

Bill Bradley opened the scoring for the Redmen converting assists from Mike Billings and Jonathon Bishop. Jackie Morrison potted the second Redmen goal with Mark Stamp and Chris Eskelin assisting. Bishop wrapped up the scoring with assists from Mark Stamp and Chris Greenfield.

The two wins give the Redmen a record of nine wins, five losses and one tie. The Redmen do not play until February 8 against Adam Scott. They wrap up the season the next night against I.E. Weldon.

NEW LEGISLATIONCriminal Harassment (Anti-Stalking Law)

"Criminal Harassment" the so-called anti-stalking provision, which is new legislation, is intended to deal with situations where a person is subjected to harassing behavior, for example, by a former spouse or by a rejected and obsessive admirer.

We are only beginning to understand the terror of this type of abuse.

Section 264 (2) of the criminal code states;

Prohibited conduct:

- repeatedly following from place to place the other person or anyone known to them;
- repeatedly communicating with, either directly or indirectly, the other person or anyone known to them;
- besetting or watching the dwelling-house, or place where the other person, or anyone known to them, resides, works, carries on business or happens to be; or
- engaging in threatening conduct directed at the other person or any member of their family.

TECHNOLOGICAL MOTHERHOOD

Scientists lack respect for nature's boundaries

A portent for 1994 was the announcement that thanks to a regime of hormone treatment, in vitro fertilization and embryo transfer, a 59-year-old post-menopausal woman had given birth to twins in England. Public response to the "achievement" appears to be split between those who applaud that feat as an advance in freeing us from the constraints of nature and others who look on it as hubris and technological excess. Reproductive technologies, when coupled with powerful techniques to alter genetic makeup, create completely novel social consequences and regulatory headaches.

The most pervasive factor shaping 20th century life is technology, a legacy of human curiosity and inventiveness that have been the major survival attributes of our species. But where our perception and creativity once meant the difference between life and death, today they often end up being used (as in the case of the 59-year-old mother) to serve human desires.

The difficult repercussions of modern technology are not just in the medical sciences. From dam construction to forest clearing to nuclear power and the chemicals industry, our innovations have impacts that reverberate far beyond the immediate sphere of application. The challenge for us is to guess what those implications might be and where we might acknowledge limits.

Budding scientists today must specialize early and are not, as a rule, well grounded in philosophy, religion, history or literature. Nor do they subscribe to a code of ethics that might guide their actions. Today, the thrust of much of scientific inventiveness is not the elimination of poverty, oppression, hunger or real physical suffering. Instead, new technologies are seen as the means of returning profit to investors or stimulating the economy. The overriding assumption seems to be if it can be done, it must be done. Public input therefore is essential to add other perspectives and priorities in developing guidelines to regulate further innovation.

Our new-found technological prowess forces nature into submission thereby conferring a temporary illusion of control. But again and again, after applying technology for a specific goal, we discovered vastly complex ramifications that couldn't have been anticipated. Thus, for example, Biomagnification, the concentration of chemicals up the food chain, was only revealed by widespread use of DDT, while multiple drug resistance was recognized through excessive use of antibiotics.

Nature itself can provide guideposts if we learn to respect it as the repository of a long history of evolution and the embodiment of a kind of wisdom. Aboriginal people often give thanks for the wind, the clouds, the mountains, the rivers and lakes and other living organisms who are our kin. Implicit in this attitude is an acknowledgement that as clever and sophisticated as humans are, the forces on the planet and the cosmos that impinge on our lives remain far beyond our comprehension.

For billions of years, earth and the life that arose on it have changed and interacted in unimaginable ways. Our generation is a brief moment in this long continuum. If we have genuine respect for this complex community of organisms which interact with each other and their surroundings, then we can draw lessons from their basic biology and interconnections that define natural limits or boundaries. Menopause is one of these natural limits.

Much of technology is implemented in the service of human domination through political and economic perspectives. The planet is now blanketed with a single concept of global economics that motivates politicians and the business community. In post-election rhetoric, the First Ministers continue to focus on the absolute need to stimulate economic growth. They fail to acknowledge the extent of our ignorance of the immense ramifications of our notions of development, the destructiveness of continued growth and the real physical constraints on all human activity. But when nature within and around us is shoehorned into our political and economic imperatives we will eventually discover that external and internal environments set real limits.

The lack of respect for nature's boundaries emanates from an unwarranted sense of power and control, and it creates endless unanticipated effects. It makes me wonder what kind of human being we become when the most sophisticated tools and concepts of science are used to satisfy our trivial wants instead of the more profound. Does our society tolerate inequities that enable a post menopausal woman to gratify her decision to have a child while tens of thousands of people with healthy, normal minds and bodies are severely restricted by hunger and poverty? Are such experiments really worth the risk involved in escaping constraints built into us by the long history of evolution?

File # SR-1/92

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Township of Lutterworth, proposes to enact a by-law to stop up, close and convey to the abutting property owners a portion of the original allowance for road set out and described as follows:

FIRSTLY: ALL and singular those certain parcels or tracts of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Township of Lutterworth, in the County of Haliburton and being composed of part of the original sixty-six foot shore road allowance along the shore of East Moore's Lake, lying in front of Part of Lot 22, Concession 5, and being more particularly described as Parts 3, 4, 5 & 7 on a Plan deposited in the Registry Office for the Registry Division of the County of Haliburton as Plan 19R-5756.

THE PROPOSED BY-LAW will come before the said Council for consideration at its Regular Meeting to be held at the Municipal Office, located three miles south of Minden on Highway #35 on the 10th day of February, 1994, at the hour of 4:00 p.m. and at that time, the Council will hear in person or by his or her counsel, solicitor or agent any person who claims that his or her land will be prejudicially affected and who applies to be heard.

DATED at the Township of Lutterworth this 3rd day of January, 1994.

Mary Jane Irwin, A.M.C.T. (A),
Clerk-Treasurer,
Township of Lutterworth,
P.O. Box 850,

Job Skills for the 90's

(Where do you go from here?)

To be ready for the jobs of the 90's we need to believe that there is room for us in the work world. Not all jobs will be high tech and require an unattainable level of education. This course has been designed to provide you with new skills. We will assess your past skills, provide career counselling along with workplace visits and the knowledge of the resources available in order to achieve your goals.

This is a 10 week full-time course: Monday to Friday, followed by four weeks of one day per week. Travel expenses and/or child care subsidy is available.

Interested participants should contact Sir Sandford Fleming College, Haliburton Campus at 457-1680. Please be sure to say that you are calling for the Jobs Skills for the 90's course.

YOU ARE ELIGIBLE FOR jobsOntario IF YOU ARE:

* U.I.C. exhaustee or U.I.C. ineligible and/or

* receiving full or partial Social Assistance

FLEMING

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

Minden Legion euchre game winners for January 6 included Verna McDonald and Bill Menard with most lone hands, Marg McAfee and Al Cooper high lady and man and Murray McKinnon, Jim Bradbury, Bill Menard, Velda Harrison and May Bradbury.

Five pin bowling at Carnarvon Lanes saw bowling for hi-low on January 9 when winners were Fred Cox and Brian Anderson with plus 192 taking $40; Marie Thompson and Gordon Martin with plus 99 taking $20 and Marlene Robinson and Amanda Robinson with plus 96 and taking $10. These house league competitors are from around the county.

Students and volunteers from the Literacy Programme held a very successful bake sale on December 11. They are very grateful to those who helped and brought goodies. Their new office is in the old Good building on Highland Street in Haliburton and will be open February 1.

All good wishes to the following: Eleanor Young, Jim Dugan, Lil Martin, Mel Robertson, Georgina Deeks and Pat Bradburn. Good luck to the many people we heard had the 'flu which we understand is going around again.

Betty and Gerald Hicks and Jack and Elva Milburn visited their aunt, Mrs R. Minaker in Lindsay recently.

Weekly winners at St. Paul's for January 10 included, for most lone hands Marie Dennie while others were Gladys Wruth, Irene Fuhr and Hilda Harrison. Nancy took the draw.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Russell Johnson, Myra Barry, Bill Lilley and Maisie McIntosh and to Ellen Holden on the death of her sister.

Stanhope held their weekly bridge afternoon January 11 and winners were Helen Rice and John Klok. The games are held every week at 1 o'clock and everyone is welcome.

Kit Schroter enjoyed a visit with relatives in Lakefield recently.

Club 35 euchre games on January 10 - winners were Bill Kleinschmidt with most lone hands, Doreen Lewis and Bill Mathews, high lady and man and Betty Mathews, Murray Daniels and Eleanor Bunker. The 50-50 draw went to Garth Windsor and special awards to Norma Sisson and Merv Bunker.

Bill, Julie and Meighan Woolfrey from Bridgenorth visited with the Bob Vicks.

Weekly afternoon euchre winners at the Seniors Legion group on January 11 were Marie Dennie with most lone hands while others were Marie Tchida, Mary Wilson and Jessie Preston.

We understand the TSN network will be covering the Minden Sled Dog Derby and the costs will be covered by Martin Pet Food and community groups. If we miss one day hopefully we can watch it at a later date. The dog races will be held January 22 and 23 and people are asked to please leave their own dogs at home.

January 11 euchre games at Gelert

Centre, the winners were Reta Crofts for most lone hands, Kit Schroter, Betty Hicks, Chris Hill and Bruce Schesh. Next games there will be held January 25 at 7:30 p.m. with everyone welcome and no partners are needed.

Branch 636 is having Trivia Night again January 19 with members and guests welcome. This is the only branch having on-going trivia games with fun and prizes.

St. Paul's Anglican Church annual Dog Sled Diner will be available January 22 and 23 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. A great way to warm up during the races, we enjoyed lunching there in the past.

So far we have had quite a bit of snow and some cold weather - frozen pipes have been reported at some places.

Branch 636 euchre game winners for January 13 included Ida Young and Murray MacKinnon with most lone hands, Maria Tschida and Bill Menard high lady and man and Jessie Preston, Trueman McNeil, Bill Menard, Ida Young, Ed Hisson and Norm Lee.

Residents and friends at The Terrace had a learning experience last Saturday when they played bid euchre. The games are planned for July 15 at 1 o'clock and thanks to the teachers Marg McAfee, Katie Parker and Jean and Pat Scadden.

The hours for Minden Library are: Monday - Closed. Tuesday 1:30 to 5 p.m. Wednesday 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Their phone number is 286-2491.

Minden County Town Museum members will meet January 26 at 10 a.m. in the Library/Cultural Centre.

Toddler clinics return

The District Health Council has announced the return of its Toddler Clinics.

It is important to check your children's speech, hearing and vision to make sure they are developing as they should. If problems are found early enough, they can be treated.

A child's ability to communicate is built upon being able to hear, see and speak. By the time children reach three years of age, they will have learned 80 per cent of all the language skills they will need to communicate well.

If children suffer hearing loss because of illness or exposure to loud noises, they will not learn to speak as well as they should. Speech or hearing problems can result in social, emotional or learning problems.

Starting in February and running through March, parents can make an appointment to bring their three to three-and-a-half year old children in to have their speech, hearing and vision checked.

The clinic takes no longer than 30 minutes of a parent's time. Take advantage of this free clinic. To make an appointment, call the health unit office. In Haliburton, the number is 457-1391.

IN MEMORIAM

BACON: In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister,
Laurie, who died on January 20,
1974.
Beautiful memories tenderly kept
Of one we loved and will never forget.
Deep in our hearts she will always remain,
Till God in His time unites us again.
Ever remembered, ever loved by Mom and Russell, Martin and Colleen, Hartley, Brian and Elaine.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSTON: In loving memory of a darling little son and brother who died accidentally January 16, 1964 at age 7 years 7 months.
I'll lend you for a little while,
this child of mine, He said
For you to love the while he lives and mourn for when he's dead
I cannot promise he will stay since all from earth return
But there are lessons taught down there I'd like this child to learn.
I've searched the whole world over in search for parents true
From the throng that crowds life's lane I have collected you He'll bring his charms to gladden you and should his stay be brief,
You'll have his loving memories as solace for your grief.
I know you'll give him lots of love and not think the labour vain
And please don't hate me when
I come to take him back again.
I fancy that I hear you say, dear
Lord, Thy Will be done
For all the love this child will bring, the risk of grief we'll run.
His little memory lives within our hearts forever.
Sadly missed by Mom and family.

WINDOVER: In memory of our precious mother, Mary Windover who passed away one year ago.
Sadly missed along life's way
Quietly remembered every day
No longer in our life to share
But in our hearts she's always there.
Always remembered by her family.

IN MEMORIAM

LYONS: In loving memory of Charles (Chuck) Lyons. Loving husband of Pat, father of David and Lindsay, Grandfather of Nicky and Britany.
Forever, Pat.
